CHICAGO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, 1861.

aniel S. Dickinson on the War. Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, one of the leaders of the New York Democracy.

Capt. Lucius Fairchild, of Madison, of the commands the army in southeast Missouri, remains at Ironton, 86 miles south of St. Louis, at the terminus of the Iron Mountain railroad. Col. Ross's regiment started from Fredericktown in Mountain railroad.

Gov. Gamble proposes a thorough re-orgation of the Miscouri Militia, under the law of 1839, repealed by the Legislature law ted there. Col. Hecker's and Colonel are ordered to Clarkstown, about a green ordered to Clarkstown, about miles to the southwest, on Wednesday miles to the southwest, on Wednesday morning. The main body of this division of the army will not be ready to move from Ironton for several days, owing to the want of wagors and cavalry to effect the want of the several days, owing to the want of several days, owing to the want of the same of the several days, owing to the want of the several days, owing to the want of the several days, owing to the details or carrying the law and to carrying the law in effect, inspectors are pointed for each Congressional District, which is a several days, owing to the details or carrying the law in effect, inspectors are pointed for each Congressional District, which is a several days, or make the details or carrying the law in effect, inspectors are pointed for each Congressional District, which is a several days, or more than the details or carrying the law in effect, inspectors are pointed for each Congressional District, which is a several days, or make the details or carrying the law in effect, inspectors are pointed for each Congressional District, which is a several days, or make the details or carrying the law in effect, inspectors are carrying the law in effect the want of wagors and cavary to effect it safely. Major Hatch, Commissary of the Division, is supplying his part of the deficiency as fast as it is possible to do it. Our last stlvices left a detachment of the enemy of twelve thousand men with six pieces of artillery, under Jeff. Thompson, posted on the St. Francis river, some Howard county

the District—John E. Ryland, Lexington,

About I o'clock, a sucdem fiash of preternatural heat o'clock, a sudden finsh of preternatural heat was succeeded by what at first appeared to be enly a copious shower, but which rapidly gathered strength and violence, until it seemed as if the windows of Heaven had again been opened, and that a second deloge was to be poured out upon the earth. The streets rapidly overflowed, and street railroad horses floun-dered belly deep, where an hour before they Major General Hunter will soon arrive here to put himself at the head of our Illi-nois troops. A more gallant officer there is not on the army roll. Had the share he bore at the head of his division in the af. dered belly deep, where an hour before they trotted ever dry stones, while their passengers cismbered with 'undignified grace upon the car seats that they might escape the waters that submerged the floors. As the current of waters came coursing down Race and parallel streets, it picked the boulders from the pavement and and washed away the earth a yard deep in large patches. Houses were lifted from their foundations and as down in place where they had not been. The Commercial

Mrs. F. M. Hermer went into the cellar of her house, on Hamilton Road, near Elm, to remove some property, and was drowned by the sudden rushing in of the water. She isaves seven children.

It is reported that a woman and two children were awapt sawy in Stores township, while trying to save their hogs.

Three hundred carticads of building-stone and earth came through Klotter's little fre-foot cultert, among which are many stones weighing over two hundred pounds.

Five breaks, amounting to about 180 feet of the track of the Ohio & Mississippi and Ohio Railrond were made between the depot and Schamaville.

The truth is probably this: The imaginamorning of the state of the sta is Misseard, but this year to be deen, and most soly a superior of the prisoners and ghiling was to be deen, and most soly to be deen, and to be dight, after he got into Washington, on Monday, while the excitement was out its height, he wore them into his letter as facts of his own observation. The root was disgraceful enough to make any man's blood cold in his velue; but it was not what Mr. Russell describes. As we have amented, he did not see it.

Edmund Connelly, one of the prisoners of the 60th regiment, is writing from Rich mond prison to his brother in New York, thus alludes to a Member of which was him does to be deep was all in the work is done by us all in tarn; and to see Coloncie and Members of Congress which his turn with mak in drying those withing the same is Mr. Ely, from Rockeeter, New York."

pirates. August 5th the Santa Clara was over houled, and started for Fernandina, Fis., with tille, to another point a mile east of Pair-fax Court House, with Mr. Russell, and when he tells what took place on that bit that he saw, or says he saw, of the fight and there being 20 prisoners still left on their hands, Capt. Coretter very wisely sent them off on board the Windward, which was a prize vissel of little value. They describe the pirate captain as a very agreemble gentleman, and his crows as drunken and bloodthirsty dogs. Coxetter even stated to Capt. Ellingwood that he was thoroughly sick of the business, but he was forced to fight either on land or sea, and he preferred the latter. He was formerly a resident of the North, at Eastport, Me., but married in the South. The pirate ship is described as an old tub, incapable of making more than six or eight knots an hour, and it is the firm belled of Capt. Ellingwood that, knowing the great eight knots an hour, and it is the firm bellef of Capt. Elliogwood that, knowing the great efforts being put forth to capture her, and her own inability either to make fight or run away, Coxetter was prepared to run her ashore on the Southern coast and quit the business, content with what he had already gained by it. Ellingwood even thinks that this was about to be done when he left the privateer, two weeks ago. The Joff. Davis has taken ten prizes in all, of which there were released—the Mary Goodell, the Mary E. Thompson and the Windward; one (the Euchantress) recaptured by U. S. vessels: and one (the Waring) recaptured by the negro Tillman. The other five are valuable, however, and the pirates have made sure of them.

First Kansas suffered most severely at the halt." The officers were turning back the few fugitives, not a dozen in all, that were on their way in; but, recognized as a civilian, as the Times' correspondent must have been, we passed to the rear unchallenged. Hunter's carriage, in which he, wounded, was going to the city. Mr. Russell and 17 miseing—probably killed, making a to-saw it, or says he saw it, attended by an cent. of the whole corps. No regiment at Beens Victa suffered worse or fought more desperstely. The Kunsas boys had an old score to settle with he "border rufflans" and they are not done with it yet. The loss sustained by Ly on's little army was terribly severe, but the gallant men who were stricken down in that contest, fall not una-he lost four men to our one in the battle. There was no Buil run at Wilson's Crock, and there will be no more such runs. Gen. Rosenerans's Army. Virginia, is about 20,000 men. The force is well organized in brigades under Banham Cox and Reynolds, and though necessarily scattered in order to protect every point around Chest River pass, telegraphic commu-nication with Clarksburg is so excellent that a strong army can be concentrated at any given place in a short time. White our army bers 20,000, the enemy, under Gen. Loe, are at least twice as numerous, and their force is also distributed in detachments, everywhere stronger than our own, ready for an attack at any moment. Lee's headquarters are at Huntaville, under the same condition as our's at Clarksburg. The regiments composing Rosen-cran's army are as follows:

The secessionists have insugarsted a peace morement here. A series of resolutions are passing about the city, dated next Saturday night, and evidently designed to be adopted at that time by a public meeting to be got up for the purpose at the Court House.

A white hig is to be raised on the occasion. Men are to be called on to raise white flags over their dwellings and business houses, to bear white flags through the streets, to disport white flags everywhere, and to attach peace mottoes to cars, hacks, wagons, buggies, and all other sorts of vehicles. The authors of this movement don't say anything about the conditions of peace.

The goods were loaded in two wagons—one driven by Albert Brunniell, of Baltimore, the other by a negro, both of whom are at the

Col. Dansels's Wisconsin Cavalry. without designing to enter into a controversy with Illinois, I think the people should consider what they would have the Convention do—whether it should spend its time at tion do—whether it should spend its time at the expense of the people in legislating on the subject of fees of Members of the Legislature, Coroners and Justices of the Peace, or whether it should be confined to the more dignified business of alsaying the organic law of the State to the wants of the people, are questions the people are to consider and act upon in electing delegates. While I have no doubt that members of the Legislature should have more legitimate pay for their ser vices, I deem it unnecessary to make that issue, for there are other questions of vast importance to be canvassed in selecting members of the Convention. The question as to whether for them are other questions of vast importance to be canvassed in selecting members of the Convention. The question as to whether an officer shall have four dollars per day instead of two, can very easily he settled by any respectable Legislature. It is cannot be so actitled, the Convention had better refer the matter to a board of supervisors.

It is said "increased pay removes the temptation to bribery and corruption." If it is the business of the Convention of the great State of Hilmois, when asserabled, to pay a premium for honesy members of the Legislature, the people would like to know, so that they might instruct the Convention to pay high wages, and thus enable us to have a Legislature, they people would like to know, so that they might instruct the Convention to pay high wages, and thus enable us to have a Legislature, they will not be reformed after they go, simply because they are not obliged to steal to support their families.

If we can judge of those to come by those already here, we are to have a noble battalion. The men are well formed and athletic, strictly temperate, as temperance principles are rigid ly inculcated in this camp. I have not seen a single man intoxicated, or heard a single pro ly inculcated in this camp. I have not seen a single man intoxicated, or heard a single profiane word since I have been here. The table has been bountifully supplied by the citizens of the place, which they will continue to do, ustil such time as the government shall assume our expenses.

Much praise is due, and greatly rendered, to the good people of Ripon for the bountiful manner in which they have supplied everything requisite for our comfort and aloy ment. Col. Daniels is rapidly gaving the confidence and esteem of his soldiers—mingles freely with them, and like old Virnais. "ney law the object of which shall be to nan out mendiciant genius and send it to the Legislature. And it is for the Convention to de'ermine whether talent clothed in rags can only be warmed into doubtful patriotism when the State and Nation are in peril by raising the pay of members of the Legislature. What grave questions i! If there are any evils to be reformed, we should strike at the greatest drist. If the greatest evil of our Constitution is that the members of the Legislature are not well paid, then we don't ned a Convention. But if it is really true that the Constitution don't allow the people to elect honest men to the Legislature, then let us change it so that with our additional fees we can elect these men of talent who are in reduced circumstances, but who are honest."

It is useless to bring such questions before a Convention. Let the Legislature take care of the subject of fees, and it our members vote for fees which are too low for men of talent who are poor but honest, turn them out and elect men who will raise the fees. The Convention is not called to legislate about fees. Its bankess is with the Organic Law, which is not founded on fees.

Again, Conventions should not legislate. If they do, the laws they pass are no better than those of any Legislature, and if the Convention should suppen to pass some poor law it would not be easy to change it. We have too much legislation now for the good of the people. If members could go to Springfield and stay as long as they pleased on good salarits, practicing tas honesty which high fees enguaders, they would keep the course busy and the fees of the fees of courts and howers in settling the law.

price that they can of the government, and pay the least that they can to the manufacturers, and who have no reputation at stake as a guaranty of the quality of the fabric. In all cases the government should give the preference to those who actual y produce the article contragted for.

There has also been as important advance in the price of cotton goods, hardly less than a cent a yard. And although the high prices of the raw material would still leave the business without a profit, most of our manufacturers have stocked themselves at much lower prices, in sniteipstion of the advance; and they assume the state of the prices of the prices of the profits of the salvance; and they assume the profits of the advance; and they assume the profits of the salvance; and they assume the profits of the salvance of the salvance of the profits of the salvance of the salvan io psy these high sataries, but sho the expenses of courts and lawyers in settling the law.

The Legislature and the Supreme Court since 1848, when the last Constitution went into tifiet, have had about an even thing of it, and the new Convention will probably aperail both of them have done. So that we shall have a new Constitution, a new Legislature, a new Supreme Court, and so the merry deace will commence again and the poor people will have to pay the fiddler.

The Constitution of the United States covers fourtien pages only, including ameadments, while that of this State covers twenty-six faces. Now why should there be so much difference? Let us have a Constitution of ten pages, and than adjourn the Legislature for four years and the courts would settle the law, and the people in a short time would know something about it. Hype Pake.

To check the vibration of the gun, which would continue for some minutes after each discharge, a heavy cable was hitched to the breech, passing around a smubbing post about one hundred feet distant. Four or five men were required to attend the cable, and by active movements generally caught the piece on the second vibration, bringing it to a rest. A bomt-proof shelter had been constructed at about one hundred feet distant from the triangle, to protect the men from accident in case of the bursting of the gun, but the about one hundred feet distant from the triangle, to protect the men from accident in case of the bursting of the gun, but the shelter was never used. Three men were employed in loading and firing the gun, who retreated to the snubbling-post, where the end of the lanyard for firing the friction tubes was carried. A stout pen had been built to receive the balls, and preserve them as far as possible, but the first few rounds knocked the pen to pieces and opened up a clear range to the foot of the hill beyond.

The fring was carried on with extraordinary rapidity, the only full day's work, on Friday, giving two hundred and two rounds. The labor of firing is very severe on the gunners, requiring them to retreat nearly one hundred feet at each discharge. As supply of cartridges in bigs of glazed mush was kept in the homb proof. Before loading, the gun was carefully swabbed out, and at every twentieth round washed out and measured. The fifty impressions thus taken of the vents area curiosity in themselves, as showing the gradual unlargement of the opening in cer tain directions from first to last.

In finishing the bore of the gun, the finishing teol accidentally split, cularging the bore behind the scat of the ball .035 in, and scoring up the surface considerably. At the close of the proof, one thousand balls having been fired, the greatest cultagement of the bore was found to be but .032 in. or .026 by firing—but little more than one fiftieth of an inch. The result proves that the material used in the casting of the gun has never yet been qualited.

Journal mays:
One of the most remarkable cases of dum tremens was recited in our hearing evenings since by a physician of exterpractice and observation. He was called practice and observation. He was called in to see a child of some four years of age. The symptoms indicasted deliriam tremens, but the sge of the patient induced the practitioner to doubt his own judgment until he had made the closest scrutiny into the case. The facts deduced, together with the breath of the child; convinced the physician that the case was clearly made out as stated. Upon questioning the father, who kept a saloon, it appeared that he had been in the habit of giving the child draughts of spirits, until it had acquired a taste for it, and would imbibe when no one was present to control its appellie. Broyal Assault.—As Lieut Goodwin of the army was leaving the residence of M.J. Coolidge, No. 257 Michigan Avenue, on Wednesday evening, he noticed two men, apparently Germans, standing on the corner of the Avenue and Harrison street. When the Lieut feit the Avenue they followed him, and on striving at Websch Avenue, stapped beforehim and exclaiming, "hare is one of them," one esfeed the officer's cost and tore it open. The effect losing his footing was struck a powerful blow, by the other, upon the back of the seek with a almogahot. Bling a very tall man—over six feet—the blow took effect several inches below where it was evidently intended to strike. To this mis-calculation of the villians Lieut. G. evidently owes his life. The wound is a severe one, but not of smell magnifude as to incapacitate him from duty. No arrests have been made.

The location and nature of the wound are both of a character, it must be eatd, to support such a statement.

There is still a great amount of excited feeling prevalent among the friends of the unhappy Kraatz, as an incident narrated elsewhere in this firme attests, in the narrow eccape of Lieut Goodwin from violence at the hands of unknown seasilants. The funeral of Kraatz was yesterdry attended by a large concourse of his friends, in whose hands, doubtiess, if left to them, Capt. Crofton would be in danger of sure and deadly violence.

We have eiten before this had occasion to speak of the credibable and considerable share speak of the creditable and considerable share our Chicago business firms have had in various departments of military outst. We made last night what was well nigh a midnight call at the premises of Mesars. Condict, Wooley & Co., No. 58 Lake street. Theirs were the only lighted premises, at that hour, in their entire block, and yet it is only by this means of two sets of workmen, busy day and night, that they can fill their present contracts, chis fix of exarbre accounterances.

The immediate purpose of our visit was to look at a newly invented lot of horse equipments, to be shipped this morning to St.

Louis on an order from Gen. Fremont, to who m already this firm have sent nearly five hundred spidles. They have also large orders for lows and from the U. S. Gevernment for regiments in various parts of the Northwest, to the amount of several thousand saddles, &c.
To thus speak of what a single firm are doing, would be leaving half unsaid, unless due reference was made to the quality of the work turned out. These saddles are all finished on the celebrated Grimsky tree, whereof no senal-ble trooper or troop horse ever said, "spare that tree" It is from its shape and bearings, by far the best in use, as the testimony of offior in the best in the as the testimony of offi-cers in service abundantly attests. Last eve-ning we took occasion to look at the work of those saddlers, in every stage of pro-gression, and saw faithful workmanarcason, and choice material overywhere combined in results highly honorable to this old established house.
